TECH INTEGRATION ON THE CARDS

Domino's to add ONDC on its menu

Mumbai, May 18

JUBILANT FOODWORKS IS gearing up to launch Domino's Pizza on the vernment's Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC) platform, the fast-food chain said in an earnings call.

"We are organising ourselves to launch Domino's on ONDC. Wherever customers are, we want to serve them. with Domino's Pizza," Sameer Batra, president and chief business officer at Jubilant FoodWorks, said, adding that the companywas working on tech integration ahead of the debut on ONDC. Batra, however, did not specify a timeline for the launch.

The restaurant industry has been betting big on the ONDC platform, which has challenged the duopoly of food delivery partners such as Swiggy and Zomato in recent months, sector

Currently, aggregators such as Swiggy and Zomato charge platform missions from restaurants in the 20-30% range, while on ONDC it is around 8-9%, analysts said.

Restaurant majors such as McDonald's, Biryani Blues, and Wow! Momo, among others, have already onboarded or are in the process of doing so on ONDC, industry sources said.

Large discounts have propelled ONDC's daily orders to 25,000 per week, which retail experts say is a short-term strategy.

*On the face of it, lower prices make ONDC compelling However, this does not seem to be based on the principle of inefficiency elimination, but on the fair amount of subsidy (up to €125 per order) that ONDC offers," brokerage house Jefferies said in a recent report on ONDC

Once ONDC withdraws the incentive scheme, either the restaurants or the customers will have to pay for delivery, Jefferies said.

If ONDC decides to absorb the bulk of delivery costs, they will have to charge higher commissions from restaurants, resulting in higher listing prices and impacting order volume, the brokerage added.

ONDC also does not maintain large delivery fleets like its competitors. Instead, it relies on third-party delivery platforms like Shadowfax for deliveries, which eliminates the operational costs of managing and growing a fleet, Jubilant FoodWorks, in this case, has the upper hand because it manages its own pizza deliveries — even for orders that are placed on food aggregator apps with a promised timeline of 30 min utes, said experts.

The company has begun trial runs of its 20-minute pizza deliveries in Bengaluru, where Domino's has a network of 175 physical stores, with plans to gradually extend this quick service to 6-7 of the other top metro cities, including Mumbai and Delhi.

AIFs may face borrowing curbs for making investment

FE BUREAU Mumbai, May 18

SECURITIES AND Exchange Board of India has proposed barring Category I and Category II AIFs from bor-rowing funds directly or indirectly, or engage in leverage for the purpose of making investments. Category I and II AIFs may borrow for the purpose of meeting shortfall in drawdown only if it is done as a last recourse, and the amount bornowed should not exceed 10% of the investment proposed to be made in the investee company. The cost of such borrowing will be charged only to investors who delayed or defaulted on drawdown payment. Category I and Category II AlFs will maintain 30-day cooling-off period between two periods of permissible

*Funds borrowed by Category I and II AIPs for investing in unlisted securities may lead to asset-liability mismatch. Further, Category I and II AIFs which invest predominantly in unlisted securities carry high risk of illiquidity. In order to ensure that such AIFs do not indulge in prolonged leverage, it is felt that a cooling-off period may be maintained between two periods of bor-

SEBI PROPOSALS

- Alfs may borrow for the purpose of meeting shortfall in drawdown only if it is done as a last
- Cost of such borrowing will be charged only to investors who delayed or defaulted on drawdown rowing/leverage," Sebt said in its consultation paper on Thursday.

Large-value funds may be permitted to extend their tenure up to four years, subject to approval of two-thirds of the unitholders by value of their investment in the LVF.

LVFs are permitted to extend their tenure beyond two years, subject to terms of the contribution agreement, other fund documents and such conditions as may be specified by the regulator from time to time

"The flexibility of having no apper limit on extension of term of an LVF may result in a close ended fund acquiring the colour of a perpetual fund wherein investments of investors may get locked in for an uncertain period of time. This may also result in delayed disclosure or recognition of true asset quality, liquidity, fund value and fund performance of AIFs and their managers,"Sebi said.

Sebihas proposed that AIFs be mandated to hold the instruments or securities of their investments only in dematerialised form. This requirement will not apply to securities for which dematerialisation is not available.

"To fully realise the objec tive of ease of monitoring and administration by stakeholders and enhancing transparency, it is necessary that AIFs' assets ide (investments of AIF) is also dematerialised, as has been mandated for AIFs' liabilities (units of AIF)," Sebi said.

As per NSDL, assets under custody of the investments held by AIFs in dematerialised form stand at ₹2.43 trillion as on March 31, 2023

PNB Housing Finance PAT rises 65%

Fake ChatGPT apps: Fraudsters raking in huge sums of money

SAMEER RANJAN BAKSHII Bengaluru, May 18

WITH OPENAI'S CHATGPT has been making waves in the technology industry for quite some time, hackers and scammers have launched a plethora of apps that are similar to OpenAI's Chat-GPT in an effort to capitalise on the enthusiasm surrounding it.

According to a report released by cybersecurity firm Sophos on Thursday, these apps are also accessible for download from the Google Play Store and the App Store. Some apps mas-querading as authentic ChatGPT-based chathots overcharge customers and earn thousands of dollars every Further, the study revealed that the fleeceware apps, all of which claimed to be based on ChatGPT's algorithm. In certain situations, scammers used the name ChatGPT as "Chat GBT* to boost the ranking of their software on Google Play and App stores.

These types of scam apps often bombard usees with ads until they sign up for a subscription. They're banking on the fact that users won't pay attention to the cost simply forget that they have this subscription. They're unecifically designed so that they may not get much use after the free trial ends, so usery delete the app without realising they're still on the hook for a monthly or weekly payment, said Sean Gallagher, principal threat researcher, Sophos.

Both Apple and Google have store policies in place to combat software fraud, and these policies have developed in reac tion to previous generations of fleeceware. "When we first wrote about fleecewarebackin 2020, some of these apps were charging more than $200 permonth. New app store policies were intended to curb this - for example, developers have to be upfront about their subscription fees, and have to allow users to cancel free trials before incurring any charges," researchers said in the report.

Since then we have seen fleeceware evolve to circumvent those policies. In addition to repeated prompts to subscribe users, ranging from $9.99 to $69.99 on the apps, they also use tactics such as tightly limiting app usage and functionality without a subscrip tion, the report added.

"These apps not only generate cash for the underhanded developers, but they also enrich the platform owners through their cuts of app store sales in the case of Apple, that's 30% in the first year and 15% from the second year. As a result, there's little financial ncentive for Apple or Google to remove them despite their near-zero functionality and abuse of stores reviews systems to artificially boost their credibility", the study said.

NEW DELHI MAY 18

FOUR PEOPLE were trapped inside a lift at a popular club in Connaught Place late on Wednesday, said officials, adding that it took almost an hour to safely access the lift and rescue them.

The incident took place at My Bar Headquarters around 11 pm. The four customers, who were friends, were leaving after a party when the lift got stuck between the first and groun floors. The men did not indee a formal convoluint with the bar or Delhi Police. said officials.

The Delhi Fice Services (DFS) Thursday said they deployed a team of firemen to rescue the persons and also took help from technicians.

DFS Chief Atul Garg said, "We received a call from My Bar HQ at M. Block, CP, around 11.15 pm. Four peo-ple were trapped in their lift... We deployed our best team and saved everyone. It was a tough operation as they were stuck for more than an hour Nobody was injured."

Elaborating on the rescue operation Nitin for eastion officer at CP who was present at the spot, said it took 10 manutes to find where the lift was stuck. The team tried to open the lift - both manually and through the lift system - to no avail.

Two-three people came to the fire station at Connaught Place and asked us to belp four men who were stuck in a lift. It was dark at the har, making it difficult to find the exact location. We then found it was stuck in the middle. Our team tried everything but the lift doors didn't open. It then took about 40 minutes to get a lift mechanic. He too tried to open the doors but couldtalking to them and trying to calm them down. Staffers from the lift company then arrived. The lift was taken to the second floor and we pulled out the victims. It was a small lift and did not have much space," said Nitis.

The men were screaming and shouting. We gave them water and rovided medical aid... they had vomited and urinated inside the lift. They had panicked as these was hardly any ventilation and it was hot," said an-

The men, aged around 25-30, work at private firms in Gurgann and Noida. Meanwhile, staffers at the club claimed their in-house technician and lift machine operators fixed the issue within 20-30 minutes Ajit Ajmani, owner of My Bar, CP told The Indian Express, "It was a technical fault. Within 5-10 minutes, a technician was called but he was not able to open the lift. We had then called the lift machine operators. They took some time and resolved the is sue. The men were safely rescued and nobody was injured or hurt. We are
